Content

It is often difficult to find a sufficient block of time in which to write and writers easily lose momentum with their writing. To help you regain your writing momentum, the Writing Lab is hosting a writing marathon each month.

You’re welcome to come and spend the day (09:00-16:30) with us to work on your thesis, proposal or article. We begin with a few writing warm-up exercises to get you started. The rest of the day you spend writing in a supportive environment; a facilitator will be present throughout to assist you with your writing. A language friendly approach will be followed with regard to English and Afrikaans.

Any queries regarding the marathon can be directed to Selene Delport at selene@sun.ac.za.

Registration

A maximum of 20 participants can be accommodated per marathon. Registration forms should be sent to Celestia February at februaryc@sun.ac.za. The registration form can be downloaded from the Workshop Programme page. The Writing Lab reserves the right to cancel the marathon should there be an insufficient number of registrations. In such a case, all prospective marathon participants will be informed in time.

Payment

Please note that the full fee will be levied if you cancel your registration after the closing date or if you fail to attend.
